

Test Task

Please implement a script that synchronizes two folders: source and replica. The script should maintain a full, identical copy of source folder at replica folder.

The test task should be done using PowerShell.

- Synchronization must be one-way: after the synchronization content of the replica folder should be modified to exactly match content of the source folder;
- File creation/copying/removal operations should be logged to a file and to the console output;
- Folder paths and log file path should be provided using the command line arguments;
- Do not use robocopy and similar utilities.
- The solution should be presented in the form of a link to the public GitHub repository.
